I have a large amount of software, that requires an anti-virus, and I don't want to download it again when I'm back home. I have downloaded the free trial of TetraSoft Anti-Virus, but I can't seem to figure out how to use it on my laptop. It is located on the hard drive, so it does get updated, but I don't have any way to run it. I am confused, because it's the way I've always done things. I have an HP Pavilion Slimline with Windows 10 Home. I've had my own computer since 2000.
